Recovery center listing missing people

From staff reports

The Laura Recovery Center has a list of 350 to 400 people who are still missing from Hurricane Ike.

The center took the names of 500 people who were reported missing during the storm.

Since the hotline was set up last week, the center confirmed that more than 100 people have been found safe, center director Bob Smither said.

The hotline was initially set up for those missing in unincorporated areas in the county, but then opened it up to all areas.

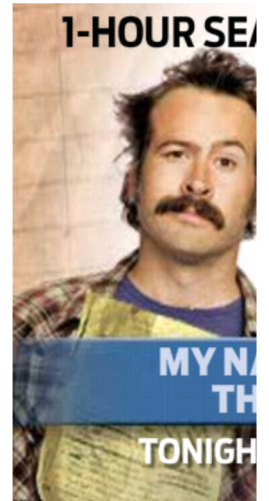

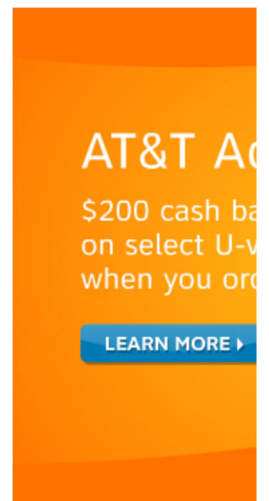

The center is taking information and sharing it with police, who can check for the missing people at possible addresses.

To report a missing person, call 281-482-5723 or 866-898-5723. When calling, have as much information as possible about the missing person, including:

- Name • Address • Description of the individual • Last known contact • Evacuation plans
